Description:	Thornton Wilder's Our Town, directed by Dale McFadden, Head of Acting and Directing at IU. Described by Edward Albee as "...the greatest American play ever written," Our Town follows the citizens of Grover's Corners through three acts: "Daily Life," "Love and Marriage," and "Death and Eternity." Narrated by stage manager and performed with minimal props and sets, audiences follow the Gibbs and Webb families and their children as they experience life, death, love, and marriage.
